In this day of modern electronics society is no longer personal or interested in caring for the needs of other individuals. I must admit I have found someone who truly cares for her patients and freely gives out hugs to them.

About four years ago I was experiencing much back pain. I did not know where to go or what to do about it as all my physician did for me was to drug me and that did not help me at all. One day I read Dr. Bryant's article in my local paper and felt lead to call her for an appointment. As she worked with me she recognized I had a problem my physician should be aware of and did not hesitate to make a "recommendation" to her. Fortunately, my physician took her advise and the results very helpful to me.

From this experience I felt confident to call Dr. Bryant regarding a painful nerve problem in my neck and arm. Again she got right to the source fo the problem. She patiently listened to my complaints and rejoiced with me when I told her how much better I was feeling.

I highly recommend her not only as a caring person but also as a highly skilled chiropractor who has faith to believe the healing process she was trained to apply to her patients is a God-given gift that He completes.

Thank you very much Dr. Cheryl Bryant.
